

Press Release
For Immediate Release
October 17, 2022

Contact: Gerard Ramalho
702/528-7952 – gerardramalho@gmail.com

Clark County Commission Candidate Drew Johnson receives 3 major endorsements further securing his path toward victory on November 8th.

Las Vegas, NV – Clark County Commission candidate Drew Johnson recently received 3 major endorsements in his bid to become the next Clark County Commissioner for District F. The Las Vegas Review Journal (Nevada’s largest publication), the Las Vegas Asian Chamber of Commerce and Nevada’s Libertarian Party all agree Johnson is best suited to take on the role. His commitment to open and transparent government, his push for safer communities and his business-friendly approach toward regulation, are consistently cited as reasons for the choice.

“I’m honored to receive the support of these incredible organizations,” said Johnson. “My goal has always been to protect taxpayers and reflect the wishes of my community. Transparency and accountability are what voters deserve, and that’s what I’ll deliver.”

LAS VEGAS REVIEW-JOURNAL

“...this board is in desperate need of ideological diversity. Mr. Johnson vows a commitment to transparency and would be an advocate for lower taxes and regulatory reform.” -Las Vegas Review Journal

www.lpnevada.org

www.lvacc.org

For media availability contact: Gerard Ramalho
gerardramalho@gmail.com

702/528-7952

